Royal Society
of British Artists

Annual Exhibition
at the Mall Galleries, The Mall, London

19 - 29 May 2005

PRESIDENT'S INTRODUCTION

The Royal Society of British Artists has produced innovative and traditional painting, sculpture and printmaking, spanning three centuries. From James McNeil Whistler, Walter Sickert, L. S. Lowry, Henry Moore, Peter Greenham, Sir Roger De Grey and Carel Weight to the current outstanding membership, the RBA continues to be a forum for excellence.

Founded in 1823 by a group of artists who wished to break away from the conventions of the Royal Academy, the Society still has a forward-looking attitude and uncompromisingly high standards.

The RBA's 288th exhibition comprises work by established member artists together with the best of work by non members submitted for selection, including painting, sculpture and printmaking. This year's annual exhibition shows the best of today's contemporaries and showcases the work of 2004 de Laszlo medal winner David Eustace.

Under my leadership the Royal Society of British Artists has been active and influential in art education at all levels and as a special feature of the 2005 Annual Exhibition, is proud to host a debate titled "THIS HOUSE BELIEVES THAT THE CONCEPT OF PROGRESS IS NOT ESSENTIAL TO ART". The Society is also proud, in partnership with the Astor College for the Arts, to host a National Exhibition of work by students from Specialist Schools and Colleges for the Visual Arts, for this consecutive year.

It is with sadness that during the last year we have not only lost our Patron, Her Royal Highness Princess Alice, Duchess of Gloucester, but also the following distinguished members; Peter Garrard PPRBA and James Fletcher-Watson RI, RBA.

I thank all supporters and sponsors of the Society, but in particular UBS for their generosity and interest in the Visual Arts.

Cav. Romeo Di Girolamo
President RBA
